THE GUDEN HEARING CLOSED.

GOV. ODELL EXCLUDES TESTI-MONY OF MRS. REISS.

Counsel for the Complainant Elieits Guden's Ideas of Bribery and Truth Telling-Admits That He Deceived Atterbury and Reiss and Jacob Worth.

ALBANY, Feb. 6.-The hearing before Gov. Odell of the charges against Sheriff Guden of Kings county, was closed to-day. Sheriff Guden resumed the stand at the start and the cross-examination by Mr. Shearn was continued. The witness asked if he was ashamed to tell Mr. Dady anything about the manner in which he got the $1,000 from Senator Worth, and he said he was ashamed of the deception upon Senator Worth, but he had not asked him for the $1,000 contribution.

The witness said he had thought that he ought to pay back the money. Mr. Shearn read a part of the record of Guden's testimony before Justice Higginbotham, in which he said he practised the deception to sell the various factions a "gold brick" in order to "keep strong" with all parties.

Gov. Odell broke in here:

"It is not necessary to gild that 'gold brick.' You have the testimony on that point as a part of the record."

Referring to the incident at the meeting Guden had with Atterbury, Reiss and their friends in Reiss's office, when the suggestion, a witness yesterday alleged, was made by Reiss that there was $6,000 which Guden might have for making the appointments they wanted, Guden was asked why he had permitted Reise to act for him in engineering litigation to break the salary bills, when Reiss had attempted bribery and blackmail in his dealings with him. In reply he said that he had not considered that it was bribery that was attempted.

"You don't think an offer of $6,000 was a and didn't think much about it." "Well, what do you mean by saying that you did not think it was bribery and then saying that it was bribery?"

Gov.Odell-Perhaps he was not in a proper frame of mind to distinguish the difference. Regarding the consideration of the list of appointments Atterbury and Reise and prepared and wanted him to make for them, Guden was asked if he meant what he said when he took the list from Atterbury and Reiss and told them he would consider it.

"I was not telling the truth," he said,
"in the way of telling them that I would consider the list, for I would not do anything injurious to Mr. Dady."

Q. How many ways are there of telling the truth? A. One.

Q. Well, were you telling the truth? A. No.

on redirect examination Mr. Wernberg asked the witness: "Did Mr. Sandford ever say in your presence that he had been over to Dady's office and had tried to rob the safe to get the agreement, or that he had offered Miss Cameron a $1,500 position or $1,500 cash, or anything in any way about getting possession of any agreement from Mr. Dady's office?"

Mr. Dady's office?"
"No, he never did."
Mr. Wernberg asked to have the deposition of Mr. Sanford bearing on the charges, which was offered yesterday, admitted, Mr. Shearn objected, saying from Guden's own testimony the Sheriff held Sanford to be a person whose word he could not true!

Gov. Odell, after some further argument, Gov. Odell, after some further argument, decided not to admit the deposition.

The fifth charge against the Sheriff was then dismissed on the motion of Mr. Wernberg, Mr. Shearn offering no objection and saying he had been unable to subpoena Senator Worth, on whom he relied to prove this charge. The charge had to do with certain promises made prior to election by Guden to Kissel in the presence of Worth.

Mrs. Bert Reiss, who was expected to corroborate her husband as to hearing Sheriff Guden tell Senator Worth in her apartments, of the agreement he had signed speriff Guden tell senator worth in her apartments, of the agreement he had signed for Mr. Dady, next took the stand. Her entrance into the case was hotly contested by the counsel for the defence almost from the start. Mrs. Reiss took the oath and was permitted to testify that she was the wife of Bert Reiss, that she was acquainted. was permitted to testify that she was the wife of Bert Reiss; that she was acquainted with Senator Worth; that she had met Sheriff Guden; that she recollected the occasion of the interview between Senator Worth, Sheriff Guden and her husband in her apartments, and that on that occasion she was in an adjoining room, connected by two doors with the room where the conference was held, so that she could hear all that was said. Mr. Shearn—State, please, the conver-sation had between Sheriff Guden and Sena-

MINNIE REALY LITIGATION. Boston and Montana May Continue to Work Disputed Territory. HELENA, Mon., Feb. 6.—The Supreme Court recalled to-day the remittitur issued yesterday in the case decided on Monday in which the court modified an injunction issued several months ago by Judge Clancy which prevented the Boston and Montana from working in certain portions of the Gambetta and Piccoia ground, on the theory that ore was being taken from a vein apexing in the Minnie Healy.

The remittitur is recalled in order that the court may consider a motion for a rehearing and a modification of the court's decision. The Boston and Montana attorneys represented that the decision of the torneys represented that the decision of the court was being construed by the Johnstown Mining Company, Mr. Heinze, as preventing the Boston and Montana from working certain ground it before worked. It appears that Judge Clancy signed the remittitur late last night and notice was at once served upon the Boston and Montana that its employees must leave certain grounds in which they were working. The employees were accordingly laid off and Attorney Forbes hastened to Helena to seek to have the court modify its decision. off and Attorney Forbes hastened to Helena to seek to have the court modify its decision. After retiring to the consultation room the court returned and announced that it would order the remittitur recalled. The court also directed that if Judge Clancy had made any order in pursuance of the court's directions contained in the remittitur it should vacate the order, leaving matters in the status they were before the higher court rendered its decision.

THE PIGEON BILL REPORTED

IT PROHIBITS THE USE OF LIVE PIGEONS AT TOURNAMENTS.

The Senate Refuses to Recommit It for Amendment—Bill Passed Reducing Cost of Administering Receiverships -Corporation Tax Bill Advanced.

ALBANY, Feb. 6.-The advocates of live pigeon shooting at tournaments expect the outcome of Senator Slater's action i pressing his bill to prohibit the use of live pirds at pigeon shoots will be the passage of a compromise law permitting the use of live pigeons at tournaments under the auspices of organized gun clubs licensed to conduct tournaments by the State Forest, Fish and Game Commission. At the hearing on the Slater bill yesterday, it was suggested that the anti-pigeon shooting legislation take this course, but the committee voted to report the Slater bill without amendment. Eight of the thirteen members of the committee favored the Slater bill. When it was reported in the Senate to-day, Senator McCarren, who is a member of the Judiciary Committee, wanted it recommitted, expressing the opinion that a substitute bill could best be framed by the committee rather than in the Senate. It was not his intention that further hearings should be had on the measure. Senator Slater insisted that the bill could be as well amended in the Senate as in committee. and Senator McCarren's motion to recommit was defeated by a vote of 20 to 24, as follows:

AYES—Senators Ahearn, Audett, Brown, Cullen, Davis, Dowling, Feeter, Foley, Fuller, Goodsell, Hennessey, Hill, McCabe, McCarren, Piunkit, Hamsperger, Stranahan, Sullivan, Wagner and White White.

NOES-Senators Ambler, Armstrong, Barnes, Brackett, Cocks, Donnelly, Ellsworth, Elsberg, Green, Higgins, Humphrey, Krum, Lewis, Marshall, Martin, McKinney, Mils, Raines, Sherwood, Slater, Thornton, Trainer, Wiley and Willard.

ABSENTEES-Senators Grady, Malby, McEwan, Prime, Stewart and Wilcox.

For the second time this session a bill was defeated in the Assembly to-day owing to it not receiving the required number of votes. The measure was introduced by Assemblyman Gherardi Davis, and is aimed at all installment houses in New York city, except jewelry and piano concerns. It prohibits the issuing of an order of arrest by the New York city Municipal Court for defaulting in the sum of cipal Court for defaulting in the sum of $25 or less. The New York city lawyers were divided on the question. It was contended that if the installment house keepers did not have the present law to protect them they would be defrauded of immense sums and that the bill practically encouraged securing goods without paying for them. The supporters of the measure argued that the bill was designed to protect poor and ignorant people from arrest for failing to meet payments through causes over which they had no control, and that the installment houses used the present law the installment houses used the present law as a club over them. It was also contended that the installment houses rarely ever lost anything, as their profits were from 100 anything, as their profits were from 100 to 500 per cent.

The Senate passed Assemblyman Gherardi Davis's bill, recommended by Attorney-General Davies, reducing the cost of administering receiverships of moneyed corporations, and Senator Elsberg's permitting the State Superintendent of Insurance to turn over to the receiver the surance to turn over to the receiver the $100,000 deposited with the Superintendent by a defunct title credit guaranty com-

Senator Krum's Foreign Corporation Tax ill was ordered to a third reading in the enate to-day without debate. It will pass next week. Early next week Senator Stranahan thinks the bill will pass. The Legislature does not intend to allow Spanish-American War veterans to become public charges or to call upon the people to pay additional money for caring for indigent persons. When Assemblyman Brooks's bill, giving the Spanish-American War veterans the same right to an indigent fund from the local treasury as is given to the Civil War veterans came up on the order of third reading in the Assembly to-day, Majority Leader Allds objected to treasury the Grand Army of the Republic would still have a claim to it, and in order to get moneys for the later war veterans an additional tax would be necessary. NO MORE TO BE KEPT OVER-NIGHT ON THE SUBWAY.

Daily Deliveries Also Reduced to a Minimum-Over 3,000 Pounds Has Been Going There Dally, It Seems-Grand Jury Takes Up the Explosion-Delicatessen Juror Rebels at the Inquest

Chief Engineer William Barclay Parsons reported to the Rapid Transit Commissioners yesterday that the possibility of another dynamite explosion such as occurred on the subway works in Park avenue had been guarded against to a great extent by a change in the system of delivering explosives to the sub-contractors and by the institution of a rule prohibiting the storage overnight of surplus explosives n the huts along the route of the works. Mr. Parsons said an amount of dynamite based upon a minimum estimate for the day's work is now being made at the huts every morning at 6:30 o'clock. If it is necessary to have a further supply it is delivered later in the day. When the blasting operations for the day are over the explosives remaining on hand are removed.

thus doing away with overnight storage. Mr. Parsons also laid before the board the reports of the section engineers upon the daily delivery of explosives at their stations. Taking Feb. 5 as an example of these reports it was shown that, except on the sections including Forty-first street and Park avenue, 159th, 168th and 181st streets and Central Park, there were no deliveries of more than 100 pounds of dynamite in the day

The reports of the section engineers showed that deliveries have been made daily to about forty stations along the line of the tunnel. The average delivery has been about eighty pounds; so that in the course of the day there was distributed among the sections from 3,000 to 3,500 pounds of dynamite. One of the largest individual deliveries mentioned in the re ports was one of 325 pounds on Feb. 5. This amount was deposited at the Forty-first street house.

The Grand Jury yesterday began its investigation of the explosion. Among the witnesses called were Contractor John B. McDonald, Charles E. Fraser, the engineer in charge of the section being dug by Sub-Contractor Shaler, John Hogan, driver of the dynamite wagon, and Amzi Post, a laborer. It is believed that the Grand Jury will complete the investigation to-day, when George E. Murray, superintendent of the Bureau of Combustibles; Dr. S. Wesley Smith, the inspector whose duty it was to visit Shaler's section of the subway, and Mr. Shaler himself may be examined. Neglect of duty is the line which the investigation is said to follow.

Coroner Solomon Goldenkranz resumed his inquest also yesterday, but at the very opening of proceedings was troubled by a scarcity of witnesses. Name after name was called, but there was no response. Finally the Coroner learned that the District Attorney had subpoensed his principal witnesses to appear before the Grand Jury. Dr. Goldenkranz seemed annoyed. Jury. Dr. Goldenkranz seemed annoyed. When he was asked, however, if the District Attorney's action would not inconnce him he said: ne District Attorney's action will not delay the inquiry, but it may slightly inconvenience it.

Hamilton Jones, the negro blastman, testified that just before the explosion in the shanty he saw a candle on a shelf there and saw paper lying around on the floor. The explosion in the shanty occurred before the blast he was watching went off.

"When you make your connections for the blast do you remain near the blasting place?" asked Lawyer Meyer Greenberg, who has been retained to ask questions r the Coroner.
"I should say not," replied Jones, looking at the lawyer and the jury laughed.

Ernest G. Mathewson, the engineer who was in charge of the work on the section, testified that the synamite shanty was lighted by a window in the door and he never saw a candle there. Then he admitted that he had been in charge of the section only three days when the carrier section only three days when the expl-

TWO FISHERMEN PROBABLY LOST. Skipper of Sloop Dart Turns Up as Reports Their Disappearance.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 6 .- Halffamished and nearly frozen, Capt. David Calhoun was found to-day at the wheel of the sloop Dart, twelve miles off the city. Seamen Thomas Peck and Ito Sitri, a Japanese were not aboard, and Capt, Calhoun says he believes they perished at sea in an open boat. The Dart, in company with several other fishing boats, left here Tuesday morning for the fishing banks and while the other boats returned she decided to remain and make another haul. At night fall Peck and Sitri were working the lines when a gale came up. Calhoun shouted to the seamen to come aboard. The Japanese declined to leave the lines.

The sloop's cable parted. Her rigging, which was old and which Capt. Calhoun feared would not stand the strain of a gale, came down and she was blown to sea twenty miles. He worked her back when the came down and she was blown to sea twenty miles. He worked her back when the gale moderated and tried to find the men in the dory. He carried little coal and no food. He stayed at the wheel through the night and the next day repaired the sails. A steamer came to him and offered to take him aboard, but he declined to abandon the sloop, which he said was all that he had in this world and that he wanted to go with her if she were lost. He made another effort to find his men, but was unsuccessful. Peck has a wife and two children and the Japanese has an American wife.

STUDENTS CHEER JOHN L. Princeton Lads Selze Musicians' Instru ments and Play in the Orchestra PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 6 .- John L. Sullivan and the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company with which he is playing Legree, got a rousing reception by the students here to-night in Odd Fellows Hall. The building was crowded with undergraduates who had just completed their midyear examinations. They called so much for John L that a part of the show had to be cut out. Several of the boys got the musicians' instruments and played in the orchestra. The ex-champion was slightly indisposed, excusing himself on the ground that he had too many friends. He was cheered loudly and he responded with his old set speech.

"Gentlemen, I thank you one and all, I hope I shall merit your favor in the future as I have in the past. Yours truly, John HOSPITAL CHANGES MANAGERS Paterson Ladies Resign Their Charge to a Board of Business Men.

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 6.-The control of the Paterson General Hospital formally changed hands to-night, the ladies who have built up the institution from a little frame structure on a side street thirty years ago to a large modern brick building resigning their charge to a board of forty directors, composed of business men. The increase of the plant necessitated such a large current expenditure that the ladies found it difficult to raise the money and they decided to call in business men to take charge of the finances. They will still retain their interest in the institution as an advisory board IMPROVISED VACCINATION BEE. Political and Other Callers on Dr. Lederle Unpleasantly Surprised.

While Health Commissioner Lederle was giving audience to political and other callers in his office on Wednesday afternoon, a man walked in and remarked that he had smallpox. The announcement, which upon investigation was found to be true, created some consternation in the building, and when communicated to the politicians and the other visitors to the Commissioner, was the cause of a unanimous desire to depart. This was interdicted by Dr. Lederle, who courteously insisted that the Lederle, who courteously insisted that the callers generally submit to vaccination by a member of the regular staff, whom he placed at their disposal.

The office was turned into an operating room and was soon filled with the groans of the victims. Only those who could prove recent vaccination were excused.

Commissioner Lederle's private secretary, Mr. Wadsworth, was undergoing an interview with a reporter who was loud in his praise of vaccination, on which subject the reporter was preparing a story, when news of the smallpox visitor was brought in. Mr. Wadsworth invited the reporter to participate in the vaccination, but when they entered the room, the vision of the suffering of those who had undergone it, was too much for the reporter, who incontinently fied. An effort was made to catch him, but was unsuccessful. catch him, but was unsuccessful from Brooklyn.

SMALLPOX IN THE ADIRONDACKS The Outbreak Occurred in the Lumber Camps, and is Spreading.

SARANAC LARE, N. Y., Feb. 6 .- The health authorities in the various villages throughout the Adirondack region are very much concerned regarding the outbreak of smallpox in the lumber campe. The disease has never before been so prevalent in this region, and unless strenuous efforts are made to stamp it out it is feared that it may gain much headway. The first cases appeared in the lumber camps near Tupper Lake early in January. Nothing was thought of the matter at first, and it was some days before the nature of the disease was ascertained. By that time several lumbermen had contracted it, and in . week or so there were several fully developed cases of smallpox. It is said that the infection in other places has all come from Tupper Lake. Although the local health authorities established a quarantine and took other action to prevent the spread of the disease. Yet several immersion of the disease, yet several lumbermen had left the camps before this course was taken. In Potadam, Massena, Norland and other In Potadam, Massena, Norland and other villages where humbering is carried on cases have appeared and there is one case a short distance from the village of Saraman laite, which is also traceable to Tupper lake. This case has attracted more ettention than the others owing to the large number of people living in this health resort. The case has been isolated and the authorities are codeavoring to prevent all internatives between the house where the sick many is and the village. Single are sick man to and the village Sieigle are warned not to pass the insise and alto-gether a rigid quarantine is being main-tained.
